Sur Beach

Bimmah Sinkhole

Oman is as mysterious as it is majestic, a place that welcomes adventure and a craving for experience with open arms. Inspired by sunrise at Sur beach, there's no better way to spend the day than chasing the beaming sun west – along the sky-blue coast of Tiwi to the Al Husn Hotel at the Gulf of Oman. Revelling in the aroma of the world's most expensive perfume at Amouage leads you on to a journey back in time – Oman's grandest mosque is where daylight rekindles an ancient past. After exploring the underground world of Al Hoota and the rarities within, you can surface to watch the sun going down on a memorable day. But why let the journey end there?

7 hours, 418 miles and one bespoke suit ago, we decided to discover rural America's true colours.

Winding roads, rolling hills and sheer opportunity at every turn.

New England is scenic beyond doubt, surprising in equal measure – a playground for those with adventure on their mind. After breakfast at the picturesque Homestead Inn, an exhilarating drive along the coast leads to Forty 1° North and a refreshing taste of luxury. After a stop in Boston and Lenox, a visit to Bennington unearths a collection of artworks that are as timeless as your grand tourer. It's a unique journey through the past to the present, but why let the day end here? There's much more to experience beyond the horizon...
